WE NOMINATE

the six members of the Princeton Borough Housing Authority—Chairman David S. Lloyd Jr., Secretary-Treasurer Edmund S. DeLong, Harry A. Farr 2d, Harry W. Hazard, John W. Johnson, Joseph J. Redding—who belong in the spotlight this week as the Borough breaks ground in the Witherspoon-Clay-John Streets' area for its excellently planned 50-family housing development. Next Wednesday morning's ceremonies, scheduled for 11:00 with scads of "visiting brass" in attendance, will not only culminate some three years of the hardest kind of work on the part of the Authority but will also reaffirm all that can be accomplished by a group of devoted citizen-volunteers.

The Housing Authority, created in 1939 and directed throughout its existence by the energetic 59-year old Lloyd, has "grown" much like Topsy. It was brought into existence for the express purpose of administering the 10-unit Franklin Terrace project that was built across from Princeton Hospital by Gerard B. Lambert. Shortly after World War II, the Authority shouldered its first added burden and took over the 17 state-financed veterans' homes on Ewing and Alexander Streets.

As the housing shortage grew even more acute, with applications for living-space mounting into the hundreds, the need for a permanent low-cost development became increasingly apparent. Again the Housing Authority was asked to widen the scope of its functions and to assume the responsibilities of full-time housing commissioners. The convincing results of the Authority's efforts are the new $600,000 John F. Hageman Homes, honoring an eminent Princeton chronicler of the late 19th century and, more important, eliminating one of the community's "blighted areas."

While only Lloyd and DeLong (the latter was appointed to the Authority after he had completed a series of housing surveys for the now defunct "New York Sun") have seen matters through from beginning to climax, the Authority's membership is certainly representative of present-day Princeton. Farr and Redding, like Lloyd, are Princeton business leaders, with distinguished records in the Borough's service. Where DeLong is the University's Director of Public Relations, Hazard, 33 years old, is a "coming" geographer-historian of the Near East. The 42-year old Johnson, an alumnus of Wilberforce University, is the popular pastor of Princeton's growing Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church.

For quietly bringing about one of the major face-lifting operations in Princeton's modern history; for refusing to countenance either politics, or "politicking", in any phase of the Housing Authority's affairs; for singling out their valued aides, such as Bruce H. French, the Authority's Counsel and Executive Director, for "any credit that might be due"; these men are our nominees for

Stassen, Duff, Kefauver. As it would on several occasions from now to November, the political spotlight was swinging to New Jersey and Princeton. In the space of five days, three figures in the presidential picture will speak to audiences on the Princeton University campus.

The first will be Harold Stassen, a holdover from the 1948 campaign, who will be heard Wednesday night at 8 in Alexander Hall. President of the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Stassen will appear under the joint auspices of the Republican Club of Princeton and the undergraduate G.O.P. organization.

So will Pennsylvania's Senator James Duff, who will be heard Thursday night on behalf of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. Senator Duff, a leader in the campaign to send the general to the White House (and a member of Princeton Class of 1901) will not begin his address until 9 in order to avoid conflict with the Holy Week services scheduled earlier that evening.

Another hat, this one of the coonskin variety, will be tossed into the ring here Monday afternoon, April 14. Arrangements are virtually complete to have Senator Estes Kefauver, a leading Democratic candidate, speak from the steps of spacious Blair Arch on the campus. He will make his appearance here under Whig-Clio (undergraduate debating society) auspices.

For news of the popularity of these and other candidates among New Jersey voters, see page eight.

Big Day. It is a rare occasion when more than 3,000 persons attend an event other than an athletic contest in Princeton. Last Saturday, however, Princetonians well in excess of that number moved in a steady stream in and out of the Nassau Street School buildings to partake in the town's first Community Day.

Despite contributions of baked goods from scores of housewives, refreshments were sold out by mid-afternoon—but not before netting nearly $300 to meet costs of operation. A major contribution toward ability to break even was the donation of labor and lumber for all the partitions from the Matthews Construction Company.

In addition to providing townspeople with intriguing information on the many services their community offers, the program was of direct benefit to many participating organizations Scout Troops, the Y.M.C.A., the Civilian Defense Council all enrolled new members, while the New Jersey Children's Home Society reported that inquiries at its booth will lead di—Continued on Page 3 rectly to placing orphans in three Princeton homes. That, conceivably, was the highlight of a highly successful day.

Letters to Germany. It took a bit of time, but the week's mail included an answer from Irene Deterding, the German girl who wrote Town Topics to ask for help in "finding a husband who must come from Princeton, N. J." Her reason for wanting to live here is one that has brought hundreds of others here before her: she was sold on Princeton by a Princetonian.

In all, eight letters went to her, "all very nice and sincere." She adds:

"I work in an office together with a G.I. from Princeton. He is Corporal Frank J. Boecanfuso and he gave me Town Topics one day. That is how I got your address. Corporal Boecanfuso told me that Princeton is a very nice town and I got sort of set on living there."

"I would like it very much if you would send me a subscription of your paper for a year. I enclose a money order for $2."

"I hope that from those eight letters I received, one of these men will eventually become my husband. I want to thank you again for your kindness. You have been a very big help."

The letter was signed, "Irene Deterding and son Cury." Corporal Boecanfuso is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvadore Boecanfuso of 49 Leigh Avenue.

Joint Planning. The possibility of a building to be used jointly by the Y.M. and Y.W.C.A.'s of Princeton was a step nearer actuality this week with formation of a committee to study basic problems to be solved in such a move. It will be headed by Judge A. Dayton Oiphant, State Supreme Court Justice whose home is at 43 Cleveland Lane.

Announcement of the building program was made by Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, Hun School headmaster and Y.M.C.A. president, and Mrs. Lewis V. Thomas, head of the Y.W.C.A. Serving with Justice Oiphant will be Mrs. E. Harris Harbinson, Mrs. Ira T. Dickerson, Mrs. James K. Quay, Robert C. Miller, Frederick J. Worthington and Dr. Wilbur H. York. Supervision of building plans and fund raising will be undertaken later by other committees.

Players Active. A production of the classic "Oedipus" will be given in English Thursday and Friday nights at Avalon by the Community Players. The production is the Andre Gide version and will have Paul Burstow's direction.

Ten members of the Players and the Theatre Intime will appear, principal parts going to John de Britto, Mrs. Alice Goedde, Mrs. Richard Levee, Miss Margaret Reed, Ronald Harper and Dana Pratt. Non-members may attend as guests of members upon payment of a house charge of $1; students, 50 cents.

"Delegate" Selected. Suzanne Rudy, a junior at Princeton High School, has been selected by Nassau Lodge No. 106, I.O.O.F., to attend the United Nations sessions for six days at the end of June. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rudy of 13 Mercer Street, she was chosen from among several high school students.

Eighty-five members of the Odd Fellows and their wives attended a dinner last week in Hightstown in observance of the Princeton lodge's seventh anniversary. Miss Rudy spoke briefly, as did Paul

Busy Weekend. Spring and Princeton have combined to draw an unusually large number of organizations here for weekend activities.

Thirty-three colleges will send 165 contestants and coaches to the first annual Eastern Forensic Association tournament. For three days starting Thursday, debates will cover all angles of the topic, "Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a permanent program of wage and price controls." The public is welcome at the Whig Hall sessions.

Fifty representatives of some 30 schools will attend a one-day conference Saturday called by the University's Department of Modern Languages to discuss correlation of the curriculum between schools and colleges. Miss Margaret Hare will represent Princeton High School.

The Princeton Engineering Association will observe its 40th anniversary with a meeting Thursday. On Friday, a conference on sanitation has been scheduled at the Nassau Tavern by the New Jersey State Department of Health. Saturday will find 300 boys from five Eastern states participating in a day-long swimming meet in Dillon Pool under Y.M.C.A. auspices. Saturday and Sunday will be marked by the sectional championships of the National Rifle Association.

To be sponsored by the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Club of New Jersey, they will take place at the range on the Princeton-Hightstown Road. James L. Whittaker will serve as executive officer, assisted by John S. Budd, range officer, and Germaine L. Caulton, statistical officer.

Miscellany. A state-wide alert to test the effectiveness of civilian defense organizations will be held at an unannounced time between April 27 and May 3. Instruction to the public and civilian defense personnel will be published in TOWN Topics before that time.

Fire of undetermined origin burned the roof off a two-story garage-apartment owned by Dr. J. Mercer Rampone on Jefferson Road Tuesday afternoon. The blaze started under the roof; Marshall M. Carpenter, Jr. was the tenant.

News of the Theatres

THE PLAYHOUSE

Deadline, U. S. A. (Thurs.-Sat.) features Humphrey Bogart, recent Academy Award winner, this time as a newspaper editor bent on cleaning up the racketeering of a big city boss. The acting is good and the journalistic atmosphere is authentic but the plot is trite and the situations it develops are typical Hollywood heroics. Ethel Barrymore and Kim Hunter are with Mr. Bogart.

Something to Live For (Sun.-Tues.) has Ray Milland in the cast and deals with alcoholism. Otherwise, it isn't even a poor imitation of "Lost Weekend," although it investigates the problems drink causes for Joan Fontaine. Miss Fontaine is a struggling actress, Mr. Milland is by now a member of Alcoholics Anonymous and, despite his marriage to Teresa Wright, pays no little attention to Miss Fontaine. The net result is rarely pleasing.

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs (Wed.-Sat.) proves Hollywood's ability at elementary mathematics. It was 1937 when this Walt Disney feature was first released and by now there are some 15 million more young Americans who weren't around to see it then. Doc, Sleepy, Grumpy & Co., the princess, Mr. Disney's delightful artistry and the songs headed by "Whistle While You Work" are all back to enthrall the small fry.

THE GARDEN

Cimarron Kid (Fri.-Sat.) is strictly ordinary western fare, given some life by seemingly endless gun play but presenting stereotyped characters and an implausible finish. Audie Murphy plays opposite Beverly Tyler; the story follows the theme of a bad man, his gang killed off, who finds romance in the path to rehabilitation.

Reunion in Reno (Mon.-Tues.) casts a precocious nine-year-old (Gigi Perreau) in the role of a child heading for Reno to "divorce" her parents because she thinks they don't love her. Mark Stevens and Peggy Dow appear as a hard-hit divorce lawyer and his fiancee who lead the way to happiness for all.

Lady From Texas (Wed.-Thurs.) features Josephine Hull in a mild comedy about a slightly eccentric old soul whose land is being sought by a swindler equipped with the knowledge that a railroad will soon seek to buy it up. Western in theme and prettily photographed but slow of pace.

THE EUROPA

The Titan (Thurs.-Wed.), current offering at this New Brunswick theatre, is a dramatization of the life and work of Michelangelo. Set against a background of Italy in the days of the Medicis, the picture is a distinctly unusual, intriguing tribute to the great Renaissance artist.

Attendance records were broken at New York's Little Carnegie Theatre when the film ran there, for it appeals not only to art lovers but does much to popularize the sculpture that has been famous for centuries. Widely acclaimed, it is a production well worth seeing.

Mila Gibbons of the Appar School of Dance will give a recital Wednesday at 3:30 at the Present Day Club. Pupils chosen to appear on the program with her are Eva Gardner, Ann Waldron, Barbara Epstein, Edith Leverenz, Linda Wentworth, Sally Mather, Carolyn Wentworth, Julia Bowers, Meredith Hager, Bette Drew and Ellen Krinshenko.

Friday is the last day of the borough's clean-up week, while the township will start its five-day drive to improve the appearance of homes in that area Monday. Township-owned trucks will tour the streets, collecting all unwanted articles and trash placed at the curb in containers which one man can lift. The entire township area will be covered by the end of the week.

Princeton Country Day School's Alumni Association will hold its country square dance Saturday night at 8:30 in the school gymnasium on Broadmead. Reservations, including tables, may be made through Wolcott N. Baker of Valley Road, and bar refreshments will be served.

A 25-voice chorus will sing the cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," Sunday night at 8 at the Blawenburg Reformed Church. Mrs. Albert Van Zandt, organist and choir director of the church, will direct the program.

Soloists include Miss Helen Jones of Princeton, soprano; Robert Osborne of Rocky Hill, tenor; Scott Dansberry, Jr., of Hopewell, baritone. Miss Carlotta Davison of Hightstown will be the organist at the service, which is open to all.

Toys for children of migrant laborers are being collected by Princeton University undergraduates. Such contributions in good condition may be left at Princeton churches or the Procter Foundation House, 53 University Place.

St. Paul's PTA will meet Friday night at 8:30, with the program consisting of a talk by a New Jersey State Trooper and a motion picture on the work done by the State Police. Mothers of second grade pupils will be in charge.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church will hold its annual Palm Sunday pew rally Sunday night at 8. The famous Easter motion picture, "King of Kings," will be shown and the public is invited to attend.

The New Jersey Poll

EISENHOWER LEADS POLL
OF G. O. P. CANDIDATES;
KEFAUVER RECORDS GAIN

General Dwight D. Eisenhower's great popularity with Republican and Independent voters continues.

There is also a definite upswing in Senator Robert A. Taft's popularity.

Sentiment for Governor Earl Warren of California has shifted slightly upward, while General MacArthur support is down just a bit. Stassen and Dewey are also somewhat less popular today. These are the findings when the results of a survey completed less than 10 days ago are compared with those reported by the New Jersey Poll on October 4, some six months ago.

Today's results also show that somewhat more Republicans than last time say they would like to see Eisenhower named the Republican candidate for President. The findings also show that somewhat more Independent voters than last time say they would like to see Eisenhower receive the Republican nomination.

Senator Robert Taft, who last time was ranked third among Republicans and fourth among Independents has pushed upward and is now in the No. 2 spot with both groups.

When New Jersey Poll staff reporters during the period of March 21 to 25 presented a list of names to a cross-section of New Jersey voters who classify themselves as either Republicans or as Independents and asked:

"Here is a list of men who have been mentioned as possible Presidential candidates this year for the Republican Party. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Republican candidate for President?"

These were the results:

	Today	Oct.
Eisenhower	44%	39%
Taft	23	30
MacArthur	14	16
Warren	9	7
Stassen	4	8
Dewey	2	10
Others	2	7
Don't know	2	3

	Today	Oct.
Eisenhower	49%	35%
Taft	15	9
Warren	13	10
MacArthur	11	14
Stassen	5	9
Dewey	3	6
Others	2	5
Don't know	2	12

While President Truman's withdrawal from the race Saturday night has made a survey on the popularity of present Democratic candidates impossible before this issue goes to press, it can be reported that before the President declined renomination he was running second to Senator Kefauver. This was particularly so in the opinion expressed by New Jersey Independents.

While Truman was still in the race in late March, Democrats in the state preferred Kefauver to him by a margin of 41% to 38%. This represented a major gain for the Tennessee senator, for last December those in his party gave him only 17% in contrast to 35% for the President.

With Independents, Kefauver's margin is even higher. He polled 43% of this vote to 15% for Truman, more than doubling his margin in the past seven weeks. Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who has not yet declared himself a candidate despite prominent mention, received only three percent of both Democratic and Independent votes before President Truman withdrew.

SPORTS IN PRINCETON

each won a national title. Brawner, in fact, took two. Last weekend, the Tigers, patted with them all, Johnson of course, could not defend his silver championship, having graduated. But Brawner lost to Michigan's John Davies in both the 100 and 200-yard dashes here in Dillon Pool while Glass was beaten in the 191-pound division.

Glass had lost enough weight since playing football at 202 that he dropped out of the heavyweight division where he had triumphed the previous year. After reaching the semifinals, he led Braden Chapman, George Myrick, and Tom Hart in the final four. He had not had a better decision. The Indians had been the more aggressive, rearing two late-sprinters to a hair's breadth. The Indians' advantage for Glass was Brad's first collegiate defeat.

Junior Joe Goldin is up man at first; Hebe Kell is up man at second; Jack Pleasant, up man at short; turies, Jack Newell, up middle and Harry Park, up first. The Indians are at third until some one proves better. He may become a fixture. Dick Savage is good defensively at short or third base. Al Bryant, Skip Fuller, Dave Roy and Preston Kavanaugh.

The Tigers open their 1952 schedule on University Field this Saturday afternoon at 4 against a good N.Y.U. team. Saturday they travel to Villanova Monday to Georgetown, Wednesday to Lafayette and Thursday to Rutgers before taking on the Q.C. N.Y. and Amherst here next Friday.

Finally worried, the Princeton baseball team dismissed its coach, Ed Kell, after failing to win a game last year. The Indians are the best team in the N.C.A.A. standards were set, two American and two world records were broken. The latter came in the 200-yard breaststroke, when Davis covered the distance in 2:12.9. Davis' night to share two records with the record holder, Dick Savage, was the last team to beat Princeton on University Field, doing so by 5-4 on April 6. After that the Tiger nine had only to Columbia, Brown and Yale on the road while running away from the Princeton 300-yard medley relay Saturday.

Tate's trio of Dick Thomas, Dennis Connor and Tom Shoff was clocked with non-existent times of a second faster than the Elkhorn mark. The victory left the Elkhorn short of Ohio State, however; the Buckeyes taking the team title with 94 points to 81 for the Blue.

Captain Ray Chirurgi is set to continue his fine record of 15 victories against three defeats in the past two years.

weekend. To return command of N.C.A.A. District Two, if it seems probable they'll have to win at least five of these seven games; or if the weatherman interferes, win at least three-quarters of whatever number they play.

Off the inexperienced abed and the almost total lack of hitting that has been evident to date, this is a large assignment. Even if the defensive ability improves—as it is certain to—there is no evidence of the presence on the squad of a long ball batter.

Any team needs one or more of a kind of batter who can control nothing over a .275 average at the plate and yet can break up a tight pitching duel with an authoritative blow for three or four bases. Last year Captain Will Prior was particularly adept at this, and Larry Becker, Jim Fairchild and Ed Irwin likewise had the knack. All have gone, and none have apparently been replaced.

In his first year, the competent Eddie Donovan can rely on three factors to produce a winning team. He can work toward solid defensive strength; he can teach the team to bunt and play heads-up baseball on both offense and defense; and he can count on a pitching staff even deeper and more experienced than last year's.

The 1951 team earned run average was at shining 1.62, paced by Dave Sisley's truly great 0.99. Dave was 7-3 last season after a late start because of a badly cut finger sustained in a laboratory accident. This year, a starting berth on the championship basketball team kept him from reporting until ten days ago but he's ready to throw his snare in the important week ahead.

Captain Ray Chiturgi and south-jaw Harry Brightman give Donovan a one-two-three punch that it is doubtful any college in the nation can match. Behind them come several untried hurliers, mainly sophomoreos, who will fit into the picture at intervals. They include Bob Ugen, Joe Castle and Ken Gentsch.

Sophomore Elair Torrey, Eddie Stimpson and Howie Robertson are in a three-way battle for the catching assignment, with ability to hang in a wear a pump because it cuts your instep, try on a pair of black suedes with a perforated, elasticized top. Open toe and medium heel provide a foot-molding comfort.

Sometimes it's hard to find a suit shoe that isn't "sensible". If you haven't yet matched up your spring suit with a pair of shoes, ask Hulit's about the "Stunt", in red kid.

Cuban heel and top-stitching guarantee its fitness to a well-tailored suit. The toe is open, and the back is too, with wide heel and instep straps. Looks comfortable, but by no means dull.

... To Buy a Fat Pig. You know, of course, what a ham cured and smoked by Rosedale, does to the palate. Now you can buy these same hams, but cooked as well, and all ready to eat. Slice them cold, or warm them up—whatever you do, we can vouch for the succulence and delicacy of every slice.

Rosedale cooks these hams slowly for 24 hours at 165 degrees Fahrenheit, after they've been cured in sugar and salt and smoked in the Rosedale smoke-house. There's more good smokiness than you usually find in hams, and a tenderness that goes right through. Hams range from about 10 to 12 pounds, but you can order any size you like. Price is 95c a pound for ham with bone, $1.25 for a boned one. No special ordering is necessary; Rosedale (on Alexander Street in No Meterland, you know) has them in stock.

The Scandinavians Have a Way. Those gloomy things in the windows of the Better Mousetrap, 164 Nassau, are Danish lampshades, just so you'll know. Made of heavy pleated paper in pale toast, white or yellow, they are versatile enough to shade any lamp that will take a 12-inch or 10-inch shade.

You may also buy one called a fruit lantern that's made for a hanging fixture and costs $8.95. It's the best concealer we've ever seen for those impossible ceiling-danglers. Put a penny in the meter, and take a look.

Gravy, Custom-Poured. They've finished dusting the smoke off the philodendron at The Flower Basket, 136 Nassau, and some of the post-fire objects they have for sale are worth your visit.

A cook who collects for her kitchen would like the ceramic gravy ladle that edits out the fat or lets it in, according to family taste. This dark green ladle (looks more like a cup, with its stubby handle) has two lips, one on each side.

Pour out of the regular one and you get the fat with the gravy. Pour out of the other, and you get pure gravy, fat free.

The secret is a tunnel-like spout that allows the gravy to pour only from the bottom of the dish. Fat floats on top, of course, so none of it can get poured out. Isn't it worth $1.50 to raise your reputation as a cook?

Rubel of Switzerland has sent The Flower Basket a ceramic pot-bellied stove (black, yellow, green) about five inches high with a candle inside. Polly, put the kettle on, and keep your coffee hot. Well-suited to any country-style dining room, the warmer is $2.50 and pleasant enough to look at right on the table.

Another ceramic piece is quite different in function and feeling. It's a pair of plant-holders shaped like tear-drops. They fit together in an oval, or separate to make any pattern you wish. A pale grey mottled surface sets off your dark green leaves. Simplicity and texture make this pair at home in any modern room, and only $1.75, too.
